The future of Pure Plant Oil as local fuel

PRE PROGRAMME

Conference of January 26th, 2010
The Greater Lyon (Rhône, France)

Registration at the latest
16 January 2010

RhôneAlpes Région GRANDLYON

Pure plant oil will not replace the oil (petroleum), no more than any other agro-fuel. The approach of this sector in a more global vision than that of the energy illustrates nevertheless the implication of the farmers and the local authorities in a strong environmental approach. Marginalized in France in their use, they find nevertheless their place in Europe and adapt themselves to the constraints of the market and to the intensifications of environmental requirements.
